Children's Show to Be Presented

The next children's show presented by Elsinore Productions, under the direction of Ron Collier, to be given at Chapel Theatre, 4164 Pacific Coast Hwy., will be the ever-popular "Rip Van Winkle."

This group presents plays especially produced for children audiences in a carefree colorful manner with lavish sets and costumes, music, comedy and excitement.

Adults and children alike have so enthusiastically received these plays by the Elsinore Productions that they have become "regulars" with the Chapel Theatre family, and will present their fabulous children's shows frequently in the future.

Children groups, such as Boy and Girl Scouts, are invited to have theatre parties during these presentations and may call the box office, FR 2-9636 for special reservations and information. Performances will be given twice daily on Saturdays and Sundays, Dec. 22, 23, 29 and 30 with curtain time being 1 p.m. and 3 p.m.

Since the first performance on Dec. 22 has been reserved for a special party at the 1 p.m. showing, the 3 p.m. performance will be open to the public. Admission is 75 cents for adults and children, and tickets may be purchased one hour before each performance.

Maid Finds Hanged Man

A maid in a downtown area hotel found the body Monday of a 60-year-old man who had apparently hanged himself.

The body of Tolvo Arvio Korpi, who was occupying room 105 in the hotel at 1305 Post Ave., was taken to Stone and Myers Mortuary.

His body was discovered at noon hanging by a nylon cord which was tied to a clothes hook on the inside of a closet door. He apparently relaxed, strangling himself, since his feet were touching the floor, police said.
